

Currently the Foundation consists of two trustees who oversee the bequest made by the late Willis L. Haenke. There are a number of projects to record and preserve significant historical coal mining places and records. The Foundation is also promoting an awareness of the coal mining history of Ipswich.